Introduction

According to the UK National Lottery one sixth of all lottery wins are by syndicates. That averages out at £440 million a year, or £8.83+ billion since 1994. If you look further afield the story is much the same. All over the world lucky groups of people are joining in the fun and sharing the riches that come from joining a syndicate.

Lottery syndicates are one of the most effective and popular ways of winning. Which is why we've compiled this free guide to show you how easy it is to start your own lottery syndicate. You'll also find a special lottery syndicate agreement template that you can use to set up your own lotto syndicate today!

Benefits Of Lottery Syndicates

Lottery syndicates increase your odds of winning while splitting the cost of playing with each syndicate member. Not only do you share in the wins, as a syndicate member you also share in the fun and excitement of playing, the sense of camaraderie that comes with working towards a shared goal and, of course, the chance to win the world's biggest lottery jackpots.

Playing at Lottoland.co.uk gives you all of this – and more. More security, more convenience, more options, more flexibility, more ways to win and, of course, all the world's best lotteries to play.

How To Set Up A Lottery Syndicate

Setting up your own lottery syndicate is easy and can be done in three simple steps.

First, gather together a group of like-minded lottery buffs. How many is really up to you; syndicates can be as large or as small as you want. Winning syndicates in the past have ranged from small family syndicates to entire company divisions. It doesn't really matter who is in your syndicate, either, provided they are over 18 years old and are serious about winning the lottery.

The next step is to select or nominate a Syndicate Manager. This is the person whose responsibility it will be to collect the money from all syndicate members every week and then play the lottery on their behalf. You will therefore need to ensure your choice of Syndicate Manager is someone who is trustworthy, punctual and very well organised.

Step three, and this is a critical step that sadly many often skip, is to create your lottery syndicate agreement. This document is, in essence, a contract between all syndicate members which defines each member's role, how much is paid, how winnings are shared and so on.

Let's face it, tickets are a hassle – you have to go out to buy them, sometimes when the shops are really busy. They can be lost, stolen or damaged – resulting in lots of stress and tears. Checking numbers is also a pain, and an unnecessary one at that.

Why bother wasting time with any of that when you can just do it all automatically? Playing as a syndicate online with Lottoland is easy. To start your lotto syndicate's road to riches simply follow these three steps:

Why You Need A Lottery Syndicate Contract

It's a story as old as time itself; friendships ruined over disputes about money. And since we're talking about the lottery here, we're talking about a whole lot of money, so all the more reason to take precautions.

Everything comes with "terms and conditions" these days and your lotto syndicate should be no exception. Having a Lottery Syndicate Agreement will ensure the syndicate's operations run smoothly and protect it from any disputes which may arise.
